

As a constituent in your riding, I'm asking for your urgent help.

Natural Health Products (NHPs) are critically important to me. I pay for them with my hard-earned money because they play a valuable role in my health.

It is likely no surprise to you that the rising cost of living is weighing on the minds of your constituents. So, help me understand why when Canadians feel stretched in every way, is Health Canada making significant changes to NHP regulations that will drive up consumer prices even more? Why, after years of a pandemic and a healthcare system on the brink, are they making it harder to be proactive about my health?

As Health Canada continues to rush through new laws and significant fees to import, manufacture and sell Canadian-regulated NHPs, they have made it clear where their priorities lie. They do not support my health. They do not support Canadian businesses. And they do not support making life more affordable for Canadians.

As my MP, I'm urging you to help change this situation before it's too late. Tell the Minister of Health to reset his priorities, pause on these changes and listen to what Canadians and Canadian businesses are saying about this issue.

Sincerely,
